

Dr. Adya Sharma
Director, SCMS Pune

From the Directors Desk

It is my pleasure to welcome you to this edition of our newsletter. Reflecting on the past year, I am filled with pride at the dedication and excellence shown by our students, faculty, and staff. This newsletter offers a glimpse into the vibrant academic, cultural, and professional life of our institute.

At Symbiosis Centre for Management Studies, Pune, we remain committed to creating an inclusive learning environment that fosters ethical leadership and relevant management education. Our course on Microeconomics for Beginners, offered on the Government of India's SWAYAM platform, was well-received by learners and is now in its rerun.

In the spirit of internationalization, over 1800 students benefited from the Collaborative Online International Learning (COIL) program, collaborating with institutions from Brazil, USA, Philippines, and UK. We also launched a faculty capacity-building program to help design COIL modules, empowering institutions globally. SCMS-Pune continues to offer Global Immersion and student exchange programs, and we are proud to provide progression opportunities for students to pursue Master's degrees through collaborations with Massey University, New Zealand, and Aston University, UK.

We've aligned our new program structure with NEP 2020. We are also focused on students' physical and mental well-being. Another notable achievement is the Student Research Conclave, which received overwhelming participation from students across India and abroad.

Our placements, alumni success, rankings, international collaborations, and media visibility reflect the hard work and achievements of our students and faculty. This newsletter celebrates those accomplishments and serves as a platform to increase awareness and foster interaction among us all.

A special thanks to Ms. Aditi for bringing out this edition. We look forward to many more. Enjoy reading and continue guiding us as always.

Academic Rigor

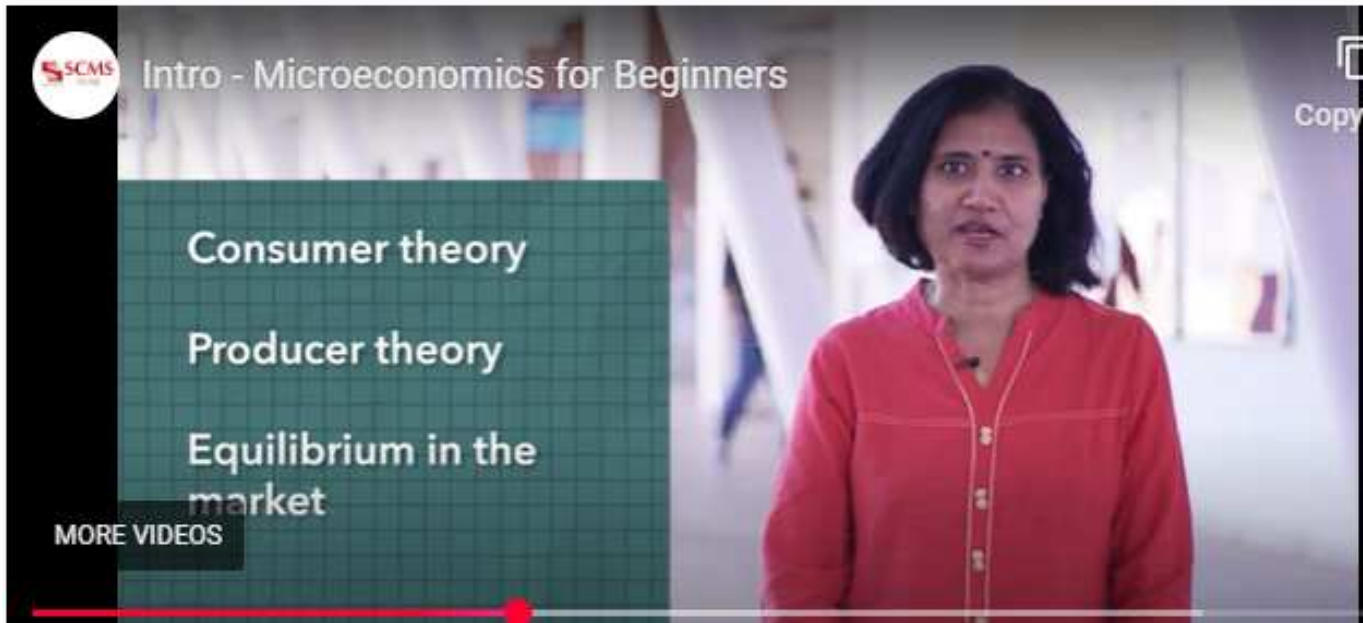

The BBA Programme

SCMS-Pune is proud to restructure the curriculum in line with The National Education Policy (NEP 20) incorporating feedback from industry, distinguished academicians and alumni. The highlights are

1. Students now have a choice to opt for a four-year BBA with honours / Honours with Research programme.
2. The institute has always been in the forefront of offering a range of courses for students to choose from. Continuing with this legacy, students now have a choice to choose between 5 majors (Marketing, Human Resource Management, Accounting and Finance, International Business and Entrepreneurship) and 7 minors (The 5 majors in addition to Environmental studies and Business Analytics).
3. The new programme structure also provides multiple entry and exit options keeping in line with the principle of flexibility of NEP which provides learners the ability to choose their learning trajectories and programmes, and thereby choose their own paths in life according to their talents and interests.
4. The programme structure offers choice of multidisciplinary courses to students where students can study courses from social sciences, arts, humanities, sciences.
5. Multilingualism is also promoted among learners by offering them a wide range of foreign languages to choose from.
6. The program structure is comprehensive, with a wide range of value-added and skill-enhancement courses.

Representation of Women in India

Representation of women in Leadership positions has been a longstanding problem in countries even today. Removing these disparities in organizations today is matter of great importance and has attracted the attention of institutions worldwide.

Many initiatives and provisions have been set up that assure that this disparity is addressed and reduced. This has resulted in a steady increase in their representation but has not completely achieved the goal.
